Sacred Wind Distributes Food to 21 Navajo Chapters for Thanksgiving

Sacred Wind Will Give Out 10,000 Pounds of Food to Navajo Chapters for Community Feasts with Roadrunner Foodbank's Help

Albuquerque, NM, November 9, 2007 – Sacred Wind Communications, Inc. (Sacred Wind) through its non-profit organization Sacred Wind Communications Community Connect (SWCCC) will be giving food to 21 of its Navajo Chapters within the bounds of Sacred Wind's territory in New Mexico.

The Thanksgiving community feasts are an important event on the Navajo reservation, but the cost to each Chapter of providing enough food for their entire community can be exorbitant for them. Sacred Wind, with the help of the Roadrunner Food Bank, has plans to collect and distribute the basics for a Thanksgiving meal: potatoes, onion, carrots, bread, fruit, and turkeys for each of these 21 Chapters.

The Food distribution will take place on Friday, November 16th at 11:00 at Sacred Wind's Albuquerque office location: 7801 Academy, NE, Building #2.
